TMI Cares

teaching

Teaching is a roll up your sleeves, high involvement profession. Its process requires a careful integration of the intellectual realm with the physical world. TMI is committed to providing casework that helps schools and teachers be as effective as possible.

Select from a full menu of popular and proven specification options, from hardware to core materials, from laminates to PVC and ABS edgebanding. TMI employs technology to engineer fully customized casework which accommodates the needs of education industries.

TMI casework will make a strong visual statement about your facility's commitment to education. Students and their families will sense warmth, quality, and a concern for detail. Instructors will be inspired by a professional environment designed to help them be as effective and efficient as possible. As a single source provider, TMI integrates our casework, countertop and architectural woodwork options to provide a cohesive, functional education environment
